

Innovation in Healthcare ^[1]

A growing need

Rapid aging of the population, greater access to healthcare in emerging markets and advances in science create opportunities to enhance the lives of patients through innovation.

Healthcare innovation generally refers to the drug discovery and development process – the translation of fundamental science into new drugs and devices. This type of innovation requires significant investment and teams commanding specialized, yet complementary, skills.

Video of The need for progress: what if?

Accordion Type:

Collapsible

Source URL: <https://www.novartis.in/our-work/innovation-healthcare>

Links

[1] <https://www.novartis.in/our-work/innovation-healthcare>